From the CEO

Hi Everyone,

Whilst we have had a little rain it is still not enough for our farmers in the area. The rest of us however will complain about the rain we have had, the freezing cold and frosty mornings.

On the 31st July Edgarley had a PJ/Onesie day to celebrate "international friendship Day" On the 7th August we will be having a morning/afternoon tea for staff to celebrate "Aged Care Employee's Day" – this celebrates the hard work that staff put in when working in the Aged Care Industry.

We also congratulate our overseas staff on obtaining their long term Visa's – it has been a long process but we are now at the end of the road with the applications being approved by Immigration.

Membership for the Edgarley Association is now due to be paid for the 2024/2025 year. Invoices will be sent out to our registered members. If you would like to become a member please speak to the office about submitting an application. We are always looking for new members to join the association and then going on to become members of the Board.

We continue to have units available in Edgarley Court ,please contact the office if you are interested.

Edgarley continues to look out for accommodation for staff if anyone knows of any units/houses available for rent.

Quote of the Day

RESIDENT'S MEETING July 3rd 2024

Present: R. Jordan, R. Williams, A. Peden, J. Zippel, V. Madex, G. Brooke, F. Morrow, D. Parnham, J. Humphries, B. Knight, L. Mackie, I. Mackie, M. Gunther, A. Bull, R. Hamilton.

Staff: L. Power, T. Crick, A. Lee, M. Hill, L. Hornibrook, A. Brody, S Hooper

Meeting begins at 1.31 PM

Previous meeting read and passed, seconded by F. Morrow

Business arising from previous meeting:

- Summer menu has been handed out to and inspected by residents, with largely positive reception. Only minor changes required.
- DON Amanda Lee reiterates and expounds on what was said last meeting about meal portions. While Edgarley must meet meal standards set by government, dietitians and auditors, residents are of course always free to eat as much or as little as they desire. Leanne from the kitchen will also now be asking residents, on a yearly basis, about their preferred portions.
- Continuing on with food discussion, steak is still said to be too tough. While Leanne always makes sure to boil steak, she is unsure how other kitchen staff prepare it, and will instruct them also to boil it in her fashion.
- Handyman Malcolm Hill has been made aware of issue of unclean wheelchairs, will be reinstating the schedule from the old building, with both wheelchairs and commodes all being cleaned on the same day on a monthly basis, and individual chairs as often as is required.
- Kitchenette Noise still an issue, will be brought up at next Leadership Meeting.
- Bathroom towel rails have all been installed, residents very pleased. Malcolm Hill was thanked for his diligent work.

General Business:

01: BBQ Day: As we are now in the frigid months, some residents are finding it too cold in the Alma Vickery Room and are becoming unwilling to go to the monthly barbeque. As such, BBQ day will be suspended for the duration of winter, with plans to revive it during summer.

This break will also allow staff to brainstorm ways to make the event run more smoothly upon its return.

02: Meal Discussion: Some residents feel rushed or interrupted during the preparations for breakfast, lunch, and dinner, saying that they would perhaps prefer a dinner bell to ring out over the PA 15 minutes before mealtime, letting them know that it's time to get ready without feeling as if their privacy has been invaded. Lamb's fry was again complimented as a popular meal, and head chef Sam Hooper was pleased to hear that the new scones being offered were well-received.

03: Happy Hour: Residents from Glenelg House will be invited in the near future to Happy Hour as a trial run for future events. If successful, a combined Happy Hour will become the norm, alternating between the Edgarley and Glenelg House facilities on a monthly basis.

04: New Physio: Physio Raj Kaur has left Edgarley, as her 3-year contract has expired. A new physio, has been hired, and will start once his visa has cleared. This new physio is a pain specialist with a particular expertise in arthritic joints. He will be working at Edgarley for 5 days a week, for at least 2-3 years.

05: Increased Dr Services: The facility will be seeing an increase in visitations from local doctors, now being upped to 3 times a week, thanks to Doctor Anthony Farnbach.

06: Activities Check: Leisure and Lifestyle asked Residents for input in regards to activities and bus trips, with Residents saying they are very happy with the current offerings.

07: Car Museum Bus Trip: A resident has expressed interest in going to Hamilton to see the car museum; with other residents agreeing. Leisure and Lifestyle will look into possibility of organising a trip in the future.

TALES OF CASTERTON

THE WAINES MURDER AND OTHER STORIES

BY JACK GORMAN

OUR BOER WAR VETERANS

THE DEPARTURE OF A VICTORIAN CONTINGENT

The Boer War which took place during Queen Victoria's reign, and which probably hastened the end of her long and fruitful rule was a bloody, bitter struggle. It was fought between Great Britain and her Colonial Troops as Allies opposed to the Boers, descendants of the Dutch early settlers in South Africa, and they were cunning, brave and ruthless foes.

The Boer War was not the first war in which volunteers from Casterton and district had served. Robert Grant of Sandford served in the Crimean War between 1855 to 1858, and there is a medal amongst his relatives today commemorating the Battle of Lucknow, which he took part in, during that campaign in India. In the church of England there is also a marble wall plaque in memory of Pte. Charles Peachey who was attached to her Majesty's 19th Foot Regiment, and died as a young man of only twenty eight on 28th January, 1863. George Upton was also a veteran of the Crimean War.

With the cities of Ladysmith, Natal, Kimberley, and the Transvaal being hotly pressed by the Boers, the call went forth for more volunteers.

After the Crimean and Sudan Campaigns, there existed in most country towns throughout Victoria, a body of well disciplined troops, all volunteers and great horsemen, they were known as the Victorian Mounted Rifles. They continued to function until World War 1, when they were absorbed into one of the Commonwealth's most famous fighting units, the Australian Light Horse. Expert riders, crack rifle shots, and fine bushmen, one of their members, Charles Koch the younger, was chosen as one of the bodyguards to Queen Victoria at her Diamond Jubilee in 1897. Twelve volunteers from this area heard the Call to Arms. Two of these brave men never came back. Another Pte. Archie McLean, who was born at Sandford at "Bowtell's Creek", was holidaying with his sisters in New Zealand when war broke out, and enlisted from there. At Sandford on the 2nd February, 1902, his mother heard the sad news that her son had been killed in action whilst fighting a gallant rear guard action at the Battle of Langewacht.

Ptes. Duncan and Tom Stock from the V.M.R. at Sandford were two of the first to enlist. Another brother Jim, also enlisted but was rejected with varicose veins. From "Cammais" at Sandford had come the first three volunteers. The V.M.R., particularly those trained and born in country areas like Casterton, was one of the elite corps of the contingent. The Colony of Victoria had three contingents, known as The Bushmen's Corps, and one of their first engagements was on The Southern Frontier in the Orange Free State.

PRIVATE TOM STOCK

PRIVATE DUNCAN STOCK

Pte. Tom Stock after a gallant war record whilst on duty as a sentry, was killed at the battle of Rensberg on February 9th, 1900. "Bugler" Frank Hortle, a gifted musician who could play any instrument, volunteered. So too did Herbert Sealey. He never came back and died of Enterric Fever, the scourge of the colonial troops at Bloemfontein on April 30th, 1900. Roy Grinham, well known as Casterton's pound keeper volunteered. He was left with a stiff leg, a grim legacy of his days in South Africa. Sgt. Major H. McDonald of Strathdownie, a volunteer, came back. Trooper Bob Edwards, a brother of Dick Edwards, received a silver fruit bowl from the grateful citizens of Henty and Merino when he returned. Young Harry Blair, who lived on until a big age at "Stewarts Lane" Casterton, also volunteered. Fred Meldrum of Merino whose people have been in the garage business for over a hundred years, sailed off to South Africa with the Bushmen's contingent in 1899. He was at the Seige of Mafeking. A bosom pal of Bob Edwards, they both joined up again and served in the 4th Lighthorse in 1914. He afterwards became a painter and upholsterer with the Victorian Railways, and died at Ballarat in 1944.

Although thinly populated in 1899, from Strathdownie there came as volunteers Hector McKinnon from "The Ridge", Charlie Green who lived at Lindsay, Jack Collie from Mumbanar, and Lloyd Watson. George Condry, an adopted boy of the Widdicombe's from Wando Vale, volunteered, so too did the Sprigg Bros. whose father, Clarkson Sprigg owned stores at Sandford and Casterton.

With the fortunes of war fluctuating, and great battles in the Orange Free State, the Seiges of Kimberly and Mafeking, the citizens of Casterton and district became very patriotic minded.

Local committees were formed throughout the shire to assist the troops at the front far across the sea. At Merino Miss Meldrum opened her home for sewing bees. Miss McKay cut materials, helped by Mrs. Kraatz, and the Misses Tait, McIntyre and Mrs. McCallum.

Pte. Duncan Stock returned to Casterton for some well earned leave before returning to the front in South Africa. During this period Fred Bridgeland the local Singer Sewing machine agent, who regularly serviced the area with a horse and buggy from his shop in Henty Street joined up. He returned from South Africa, and volunteering again in the Great War of 1914 was killed at the Peninsula in August, 1915.

Although no military organization existed before the Boer War for the provision of Nursing Sisters, a number of devoted women volunteered their services for the South African conflict.

Ten Victorian Nurses sailed in The Euralyus on March 10th, 1900. A Sister Mariane Rawson was awarded the Royal Red Cross, and a Sister Isabel was mentioned in dispatches. A brave Sister Frances Emma Hines died whilst on Active Service.

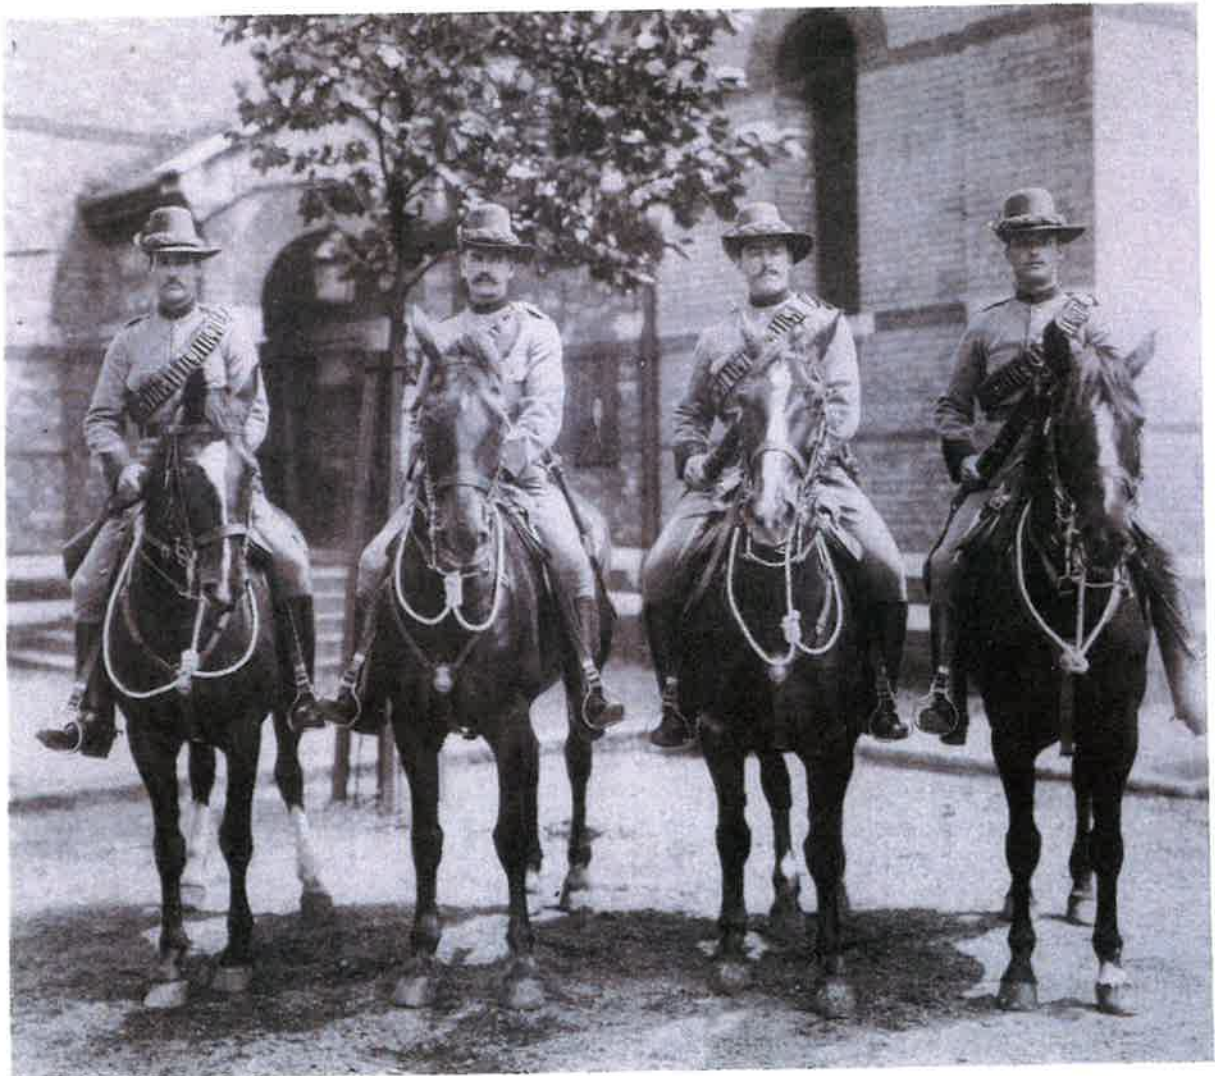

Major J. McDonald, a brother of the Major's from Bella Vista, and Dr. Newman, afterwards a famous eye specialist in Collins Street, both in uniform, held patriotic meetings in Henty Street calling for more recruits.

The British Army who had fought well at Waterloo and the Crimea found it vastly different to the hit and run guerilla type of warfare carried out by the Boers. They were fighting in a country of vast bushlands and high veldts. The Boers were at home, they knew every inch of the country which the Colonial troops did not.

Some of the British Commanders had distinguished themselves with valour in previous campaigns. They had taken part in The Saudan Campaign 1884-85. They had fought in the Kaffir War of 1877-78. They had been to The Khartoum Expedition, The Afghan War of 1878-79, The Zulu War of 1879, The Ashanti War of 1873, The Bechuanaland and Nile Expeditions of 1884, and 1889.

They had fought against the terrible and mighty King of The Zulus, Cetewayo, at Rorke's Drift bordering Zululand and Natal near The Buffalo River.

The Commander In Chief, General Sir Redvers H. Buller, had served in The China War 1860, and The Red River Expedition ten years later. In The Kaffir and Zulu Wars of 1878-79, he had won his V.C. and C.M.G.

THE VICTORIAN MOUNTED RIFLES BODY GUARD TO QUEEN VICTORIA AT THE DIAMOND JUBILEE 1897. C. KOCH THE YOUNGER, 3rd FROM RIGHT

Colonel R.S.S. Baden-Powell, the gallant defender of The Siege of Mafeking, B.P. as he was affectionately called, was a source of great inspiration to the beleaguered garrison.

In The Ashanti Campaign of 1895-96, and in The Matabele Campaign, he led a troop of irregulars, and was unrivalled as a scout, earning from the enemy the name of Impeesi, or "He that creeps by Night".

After a series of reverses in which the British and Colonial troops suffered heavy losses, Field Marshall Roberts and Lord Kitchener, the heroes of the Khartoum and Omdurman, were called in, and they turned the tide.

THE RELIEF OF MAFEKING

When the tidings of the relief of Mafeking were signalled by telegraph to Casterton, it was a day of jubilation and thanksgiving in the town. The Shire President, Cr. McIntyre, proclaimed it a public holiday. The Casterton horsedrawn voluntary fire brigade headed the procession down Henty Street, church bells rang out peals of joy. The Vice Regal Band played patriotic tunes. Heavy rain did not dampen the ardour of the enthusiasts. They sheltered under umbrellas in front of L. Nowacki and D. West's shops. A lone soldier, resplendent in full battle dress on a dapple grey mount, represented the Colonial troops.

Celebrations extolling the valour of the boys at the front continued into the night. It was open house at Dancock's Casterton Hotel, the Glenelg, the Albion, the Railway Hotel and Bridge Inn.

At Commaun in the Dergholm area, Trooper J.P. Buchan was warmly greeted by sixty residents of the district at his parents home at a welcome home, the evening chaired by Mr. D. McPhee. At "The Ridge" Mumbanar, Lachlan McKinnon prepared a sumptuous repast as the family and friends gathered to welcome Hector home from The Front.

The war officially ended on the 31st May, 1902 with the signing of the Peace of Vereebing. A grateful town and district prepared to welcome home its troops. The Railway station at Merino was decked with flowers and bunting, for the safe return of Trooper Edwards, who was accompanied by Trooper Hickey. At Casterton, a torchlight procession was held in honour of Duncan Stock, Bugler Hortle, and Sgt. Major H. McDonald. At Christ Church Casterton, the Rev. J.A. Ball welcomed Bugler Hortle who was wearing his medal for valour presented to him by the Duke of Cornwall and York.

CELEBRATIONS, HENTY STREET, RELIEF OF MAFEKING 1899 BOER WAR

During Duncan Stock's lifetime, a Mr. J. Bolding visited him at Casterton and thanked him for saving his life at the battle of Rensberg. Bolding's horse was shot and killed under him. Duncan Stock returned to the engagement, and piggy backed Bolding to safety although right under the fire of the Boers' heavy artillery. In 1903 a public meeting was held to finalise a suitable monument to the fallen Boer War Soldiers. Two Cypress trees were planted in honour of Tom Stock and Herbert Sealey at the Casterton Hospital gates.

A gas lamp of the finest quality was purchased from John Danks and Son. The Monument, itself an ornate structure consisting of stone and casting was imported from Brussels. George Pentland, Casterton's leading sign writer of the day, was commissioned to do the lettering on the monument. To mark the occasion, a Military tattoo was held at the showgrounds. Forty five riflemen paraded through Henty Street by torchlight.

A thousand people gathered in front of the Mechanics' Institute for the unveiling of the monument. The memorial lamp was unveiled by Mrs. George Sealey, mother of Pte. H. Sealey, and a Miss Stock, a sister of Tom Stock turned on the gas. A magnificent wreath, white with embossed violet letters "To H Company, V.M.R." was placed on the monument by Miss Little of Sandford.

The Last Post was sounded to the fallen. At the conclusion of the ceremony a grand military ball was held in the Mechanics' Institute, a most enjoyable evening being had by all to the music of Mrs. Crow, pianist, Mr. Ronchette, cornet, and a Mr. Wyatt on the piccolo.
